

2004 Midwest Macroeconomics Meetings: Conference Schedule

May 14, Friday

1pm-2:45pm	Monetary Policy in Overlapping Generations Models (232 Carver) Theory and Methods (250) Exchange Rate Regimes (268) Knowledge and TFP (290)
2:45-3:00	Coffee Break; 1st floor of Carver Hall
3pm-4:45pm	Inflation and Unemployment (290) Education (232) Banking Crises (250) Open Economy Macroeconomics -I (268)
4:45-5:15pm:	Coffee Break
5:15 pm-6:30 pm	Plenary Speaker Charles Engel, Carver 1
7pm+	weather-permitting , an open BBQ in Brookside Park (Maple Shelter); otherwise, attendees make own dinner plans

May 15, Saturday

8:30am-10:15am	Monetary Policy -1 (250) Random Matching Models of Money (268) Stock Markets and Rationality (232) Prices and Dispersion (290)
10:15-10:30am	Coffee Break
10:30am-12:15pm	Contracts (250) The Friedman Rule (232) Financial Frictions in Open Economies (290) Time Series Econometrics (268)
12:15pm-1:45pm	Lunch; attendees make own plans
1:45pm-3:30pm	Political Economy (250) Learning (268) Monetary Policy-2 (290) Consumption and Asset Pricing (232)
3:30-3:45pm	Coffee Break
3:45pm-5pm	Development Economics (290) Open Economy Macroeconomics -II (232) Vector Autoregressions (250)
5:00pm -- 5:15pm	Coffee Break
5:15pm-6:30pm	Plenary Speaker Daron Acemoglu, Carver 1
6:30pm -7:00pm	buses take attendees to conference hotel from outside Carver Hall
7pm-1am	cocktails, conference dinner, Paul Romer, comedy, The Barn Owl Band, fun

May 16, Sunday

8:30am-10:15am Investment (268)
Payments System (250)
Health and Demographics (290)
Labor Markets (232)

8:30am-9:30am Demonstration of teaching software produced by Aplia
(concurrent; part of Iowa in 68 Heady Hall, by Paul Romer, Stanford University, and Chairman and Founder of Aplia
Economics Association Meetings)

10:15am-10:30am Coffee Break

10:30am-12:15pm Policy Responses (232)
Life Cycle Models (268)
Economic Growth (290)
Financial Intermediaries (294)
Consumption (250)

10:30am-11:30am Demonstration of teaching software produced by Aplia
(concurrent; part of Iowa in 68 Heady Hall, by Paul Romer, Stanford University, and Chairman and Founder of Aplia Economics Association Meetings)