Macalester College, Saint Paul, MN
International Economics (F)

The Department of Economics invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track position at the Assistant or Associate Professor level to begin in the 2017-18 academic year. We seek candidates with teaching and research interests in international economics, but have a strong preference for candidates with a focus in international trade. Macalester College values a strong commitment to research, a promise of successful scholarly engagement and dedication to teaching excellence in a liberal arts environment. The teaching load is four courses the first year and five courses per year thereafter. Ph.D. expected by August 2017. For full consideration, submit electronic copies of your cover letter, curriculum vitae, graduate transcripts, evidence of teaching effectiveness, job market paper, and three letters of recommendation by November 15, 2016.

Macalester College is a highly selective, private liberal arts college located in the vibrant Minneapolis-Saint Paul metropolitan area, which has a population of approximately three million and is home to numerous colleges and universities, including the University of Minnesota. Macalester’s diverse student body comprises over 1900 undergraduates from 49 states and the District of Columbia and over 90 nations. The College maintains a longstanding commitment to academic excellence with a special emphasis on internationalism, multiculturalism, and service to society. As an equal opportunity employer supportive of affirmative efforts to achieve diversity among its faculty, Macalester College strongly encourages applications from women and members of underrepresented minority groups.
