Announcements

McLaughlin retires from Iowa State
Diana McLaughlin, administrative specialist, retires Friday, July 7, 2017, after more than 44 years of service to Iowa State.

EGSC call for papers 2017
Washington University in St. Louis
Economics Graduate Student Conference, October 28, 2017
Submission deadline: Aug. 14, 2017

Department Highlights

Jacobs conducts webinar
Keri Jacobs, assistant professor, conducted a webinar for the Iowa Communications Alliance titled, “Managing Equity and Growing Value in an Uncertain Environment” on June 27.

Deiter gives presentation to conference
Ron Deiter, professor, gave a presentation entitled “Two Fun Economic Pricing Games Are In Your Future” on June 28 and again on June 29 to participants attending the annual Iowa 4-H Conference on campus. The theme of this year’s conference was “Start Your Future Here” and there were over 700 participants.

Schulz interviewed for National Hog Farmer
Lee Schulz, assistant professor, was quoted in a National Hog Farmer story about the growth of the U.S. hog industry.

Zhang article in University of Illinois news
Wendong Zhang, assistant professor, had his Ag Policy Review article on an unlikely repeat of the 1980s farm crisis included in a University of Illinois

Swenson media contacts
David Swenson, associate scientist, was a guest on KASI Radio’s “The Trent Rice Show” to talk about tight labor markets and why that is, in fact, a good thing.

Alumna named chancellor of University of Minnesota Crookston
Mary Holz-Clause, ('09 agricultural education) has been named chancellor of University of Minnesota Crookston. Dr. Holz-Clause’s appointment is effective June 30, 2017, pending approval by the University of Minnesota Board of Regents.

Department alum joins CALT
Phil Harris ('73 economics), an emeritus professor of agricultural and applied economics at the University of Wisconsin at Madison, has joined Iowa State University’s Center for Agricultural Law and Taxation as a visiting professor. He is serving the center in a part-time role as visiting professor.

NIFA creates AFRI funded projects webpage
USDA’s National Institute of Food and Agriculture has created an AFRI Funded Projects webpage. The Agricultural and Food Research Initiative program supports research, education and extension work important to the U.S. food and agricultural sector.

Upcoming Event

Workshop: Inclusive Classroom Faculty Development Workshop

Wednesday, July 12, 2017
1:10pm to 4:00pm
2030 Morrill Hall

Funding Opportunity Internet Association, Call for Proposals

Internet Economy Research Fellowship (multiple positions available)
Application deadline: July 12, 2017

Job Opportunity CARD and Center for China-US Ag Economics & Policy, ISU

Postdoctoral Research Associate
Chinese Agricultural Policy and Market Analysis
Application deadline: July 15, 2017
Interviews will be conducted at AAEA meetings July 31-Aug. 1, 2017