

Iowa State University Department of Economics

Friday, April 1, 2022

Department Highlights

Alum speaker at Ukraine lecture

Nancy B. Brannaman (BS Ag Business/Farm Operation, MS Ag Economics/Finance) was one of the panelists at a virtual University Lectures event, Personal Reflections on the War in Ukraine, March 23.

Plastina and Tidgren panelists for Farm Foundation forum

Alejandro Plastina, associate professor, and Kristine Tidgren, Director of the Center for Ag Law and Taxation, will serve as panelists in the forum “Solving the Barriers to Agricultural Carbon Markets” organized by the Farm Foundation for April 12.

Orazem on Iowa unemployment

Peter F. Orazem, university professor, did two March 29 radio interviews about legislation reducing unemployment benefits in Iowa with:

Curtailed Ukraine crops mean more money for Iowa farmers: Hart

Chad Hart, professor, was interviewed for a March 23 KFAB interview on the effects of crop prices due to the Russian invasion of Ukraine.

Ag bus students win pork industry scholarships

Three of 2022 winners of the $2,500 scholarships are ag business students:

Job Opportunities

Colorado State Extension

Colorado State University Extension is hiring more than 16 new positions as part of its Expanded Rural Engagement Initiative.

Follow us on FACEBOOK

Follow us on TWITTER

